Greenlee's launches MagnumPRO™ line of enhanced fish tapes

ROCKFORD, Ill. October, 2008 — Greenlee, a Textron Inc. (NYSE: TXT) company, has launched MagnumPRO™ an enhanced line of fish tapes for use in residential, commercial, and industrial applications.

All Greenlee MagnumPRO fish tapes include such new features as a rapid tape pay-out and rewind mechanism to help speed up the movement of the fish tape and a smaller fish eye with an offset bend for improved fishing ability. The MagnumPRO fish tapes also come with a viewing port that allows for visibility of the remaining tape in the case and gives the end-user the ability to remove jobsite debris quickly.

Each new rugged fish tape case in the MagnumPRO line now comes with an advanced comfort handle that provides an ergonomically-friendly grip to help reduce fatigue. A 360-degree uniform grip surrounds the case to provide more durability for longer case life. The grip ridges on the flared case also help prevent slipping.

For more information on the new line of MagnumPRO™ fish tapes other products from Greenlee, a Textron company, call 1-800-435-0786 or visit www.greenlee.com
