Greenlee's offers new and improved Site-Rite® hand benders

ROCKFORD, Ill. October, 2008 — Greenlee, a Textron Inc. (NYSE: TXT) company, launched an entire family of new and improved bender heads, handles and head/handle combinations within its Site-Rite® hand benders line. These benders offer both aluminum and iron head castings to meet the user's preference for feel and weight and work on EMT, IMC or rigid conduit.

Greenlee's benders come with its patented SITE-RITE® sighting system. This system provides for accurate head-down bends, and features cast-in markings for head-up bending as well as for producing stub-ups, offsets, saddle bends and back-to-back bends.

The power pedal feature with a larger foot area on the head is available on both the aluminum and iron 1¼-inch bender heads for greater control, stability and leverage. While the aluminum and iron ½-inch, ¾-inch and 1-inch bender heads all have enlarged foot pedals and increased toe room. All bender handles are a consistent diameter, offering a bigger grip area, while still straight up and down for fast 30-degree bends. There's also a strong, stable square hook design and a choice of aluminum or iron alloy construction provides options depending on the end-user's preference for feel and weight. All Site-Rite® hand benders come with a lifetime limited warranty.
